Firm Will Repeat Annual Distribution of Clothes to 100 on Christmas

Overcoats will cover at least 100 of the city's poor boys, whose parents are unable to provide such outer raiment ance of Past, Present, and as the result of the decision of Saks & Co. to follow its annual custom of giving away 100 overcoats on Christmas morning

For years this firm has distributed a similar number of such garments among the poor boys of Washington, maintaining that it is more practical to make such a donation rather than gifts of toys and bon-bons. The youngsters to whom the overcoats will be given will be selected from the lists of destitute which the Associated Charities maintain. The distribution will take place at 10 o'clock on Christmas morning.

CHILDREN UNDER 14 BARRED FROM STAGE

Permission Will Not Be Granted After January 1, Commissioners Announce.

Announcement that after January permission for employment in theatrical exhibitions in the District will not be given children under fourteen years of age, was made by the Commissioners today.

The act to regulate the employment of child labor in the District provides that nothing therein contained shall apply to the employment of any child in a theatrical exhibition, provided the written consent of one of the Commissioners of the District is obtained.

The board recently received from J. McKelway, secretary for the Southern States of the National Child Labor Committee, a letter stating that since er will entertain at a dance on De-cember 28 instead of the dinner dance originally planned for that date. legislation prohibiting the employment on the stage of children under fourteen during the day and under sixteen at night, and urging the Commissioners to adopt a similar regulation. SENATE GETS BUSY WITH LITTLE DELAY mediately After Convening of Body Today.

Introduction of bills was begun in the Senate today, following the presentation of petitions and memorials. Owing to the fact the Senate had to go to the House chamber at 12:30 to hear the message of the President, only a part of the Senators had opportunity to present their measures. Senator Sheppard was prepared to introduce the District prohibition bill but did not get the opportunity. He will introduce it later today or tomorrow.

Senator Thomas presented several bills relating to preparedness. Senator Thomas introduced the proposed woman suffrage amendment for the National Suffrage Association.

Senator Owen presented his bill for a Department of Health. This measure has been before Congress for several years. Senator Smoot introduced a bill to broaden the Public Health Service. Ordinarily the Senate waits until the Ordinarily the Senate waits until the day after the presenting of the message before introducing bills. It departed from that practice today.

New Problem Presented. The Oregon contest between King and Easterly presented a distinctly new problem to the national committee, as never before had the question of a national committeeman elected at a State primary as opposed to one named by the State committee presented itself. In the Kentucky case between Woodson and General Haldeman the issue was somewhat similar to the Guffey-Palmer case, which came before the committee two years ago, when Guffey was seated, after he had been elected by the old State committee and the new state committee had attempted to seat Palmer instead.

Gossip in the hotel lobby prior to the meeting of the committee indicated that St. Louis was a fayerite candidate city for the National Democandidate city for the National Democratic convention next summer, though there were whispers that Roger Sullivan and the other Chicagoans had "something up their sleeves" in the way of additional inducements. Dallas and St. Louis adherents are on hand with certified checks for $100,006 from their respective cities. Chicago had made no announcement of such a bonus up to the time the committee met, but it is generally understood that at a meeting of the Chicago men last night it was arranged to meet all the expenses of the convention should that city be selected.

Pence Succeeds Davies. The first hour of the committee meeting was in the nature of a love feast, with the exception of the contests for seats. In a brief talk, Chairman McCombe shall be no clouds.

"I have been in close co-operation with you all for five years, and in intimate touch with national politics all of that time," he continued, "and it is unnecessary for me to pledge you that I will continue my efforts to further the success we have had." The first business of the committee was to elect Thomas Pence, publicity man for the committee, temporary secretary to succeed Joseph E. Davies, resigned. Responding to secretary to succeed Joseph E. Davies, resigned. Responding to his unanimous election, Mr. Pence said:
"There have been stories of friction between Mr. McCombs and myself circulated in some circles, but I want to say that they are without foundation. I have worked with him in the past and I will work with him in the future, for the advancement of the best interests of Democracy."

Thieves Steal Teeth Of Big Bronze Lion

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 7 .- One of the two big bronze lions guarding the Washington street entrance to the customs house has been outraged. Either a thief with no sense of values Upon "Near" Beer Sales or a souvenir fiend filed off two front teeth of the animal to obtain the huge ring that used to dangle from his fiercesome mouth.

The ring, at the present market value of bronze, is worth about $0 cents. Experts tell Collector Davis that the job of sawing through the teeth, each an inch thick, must have taken several hours. Meanwhile cuatoms house employes feel they have been personally affronted.

The Safest Investment Are those that do not fluctuate during dis-turbed conditions of the money or stock mar-kets. First deed of trust notes (first mort-gages), well secured on real estate in the District of Columbia, constitute "git-edge" investments. They do not depend upon the financial responsibility of individuals or com-porations for their stability, and are examina-from taxation as personal property. We cas supply such investments in amounts from $500 upward, Send for booklet "Concerning Loans and Investments."
